ANIMAL STORIES FOR OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

The Impecunious Hen.

There was once an impecunious old hen, who saved everything that came within her grasp. One day she was strolling along in a part of the barnyard which was not often visited by the hen tribe, and she came across a box of straw. Right in the very middle of the straw were two eggs. They were certainly nice looking eggs, and so this old hen thought.

"I'll save these eggs," said she, and straightway she got a large board to cover the box with so no one else would discover the eggs and take them away.

But as fortune would have it, just as she was about to place the board gently over the straw it slipped! Herons to relate it, and, and one edge struck those beautiful looking eggs right square on top.

"I'll save these eggs," said she, and straightway she got a large board to cover the box with so no one else would discover the eggs and take them away.

SHALL HE MARRY A CONGO GIRL?

Question Now Before the Committee—The Brazil Trouble.

In his regular report, just received here, Dr. L. H. Chester, secretary of the Executive Committee of Foreign Missions of the Southern Presbyterian Church, gives an interesting account of the troubles in the Southern Brazil mission.

At a recent meeting of the Brazilian Presbyterian Synod the question of making membership in the order of Free Masonry a term of communion was brought up by the Rev. Eduardo Pereira, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Sao Paulo. The proposition was overwhelmingly defeated, but Mr. Pereira and six other ministers, with ten elders, who were the advocates of the proposition, withdrew from the synod because of its failure to adopt their views.

Dr. Chester says that this will be a serious temporary loss to the Brazilian Presbyterian Church, but that the church, like all infant churches in the past, must have its internal commotions, and must weather the storms that come upon it from time to time.

The withdrawal of the Rev. Eduardo Pereira will contribute greatly to peace in the church. He has been a great agitator for some years past, and has refused to co-operate heartily in the work of the church because of his failure to carry with him a majority of the synod in his views on this and other questions.

The Executive Committee has had another delicate question before it. It is whether or not the committee will give up the mission of one of the colored missionaries in Africa to a Congo girl.

Letters have been received announcing the safe arrival of Dr. Gammon and family, who spent some time in Richmond recently.

THE NOVEL PLAN OF T. P. A. MEN

They Send Out Checks to Five Hundred Selected People.

Post A. Traveler's Protective Association of this city, at a recent meeting reported about $750 as the net result of the raffle of the horse and runaway. The committee in charge were instructed to raise $1,000 with which to partially endow a T. P. A. room in the Memorial Hospital.

This committee has adopted a very novel and unique plan to secure the $250 lacking. Yesterday over $500 was distributed among the members and friends of the Post, each person receiving a letter enclosing a check for $1.

The letter is self explanatory and is reproduced below. Enclosed with the letter and check is a slip upon which is printed the offer of two cash prizes, "Just to make it interesting."

A copy of the letter and enclosed slip follows:

The plan will doubtless be entirely successful and will not only net the amount needed for the hospital room, but will leave a neat sum to add to the T. P. A. building fund. The letter reads as follows:

Richmond, Va., Oct. 1, 1938.

Dear Sir,—We herewith enclose you Post A's check for $1 which we beg you will accept in trust, as a part of an investment the Post desires to make through its friends.

Please invest this money in any manner you may deem desirable and profitable. At the expiration of thirty days from date we will require the return of the principal, together with the net sum has been learned through your management.

Post A has this day authorized the distribution of a number of its checks to a selected list, and in including you in the number, feels confident that its capital so invested will be returned at maturity with a very generous increase.

Two hundred and fifty dollars of the amount derived from this investment will be added to the $750 which was the net result of the recent raffle of the horse and trap; this total amount of $1,000 will be used to secure a T. P. A. room in the Memorial Hospital. Should more than $500 result from this investment, the balance will be deposited to the credit of the building fund of Post A.

Trusting that you will heartily co-operate with us in our endeavor to advance the interests of Post A as outlined above, we are truly

Yours truly,

R. W. SPILLMAN, Chairman,
WILLIAM JENKINS, Jr.,
L. O. MILLER,
Special Committee.

The following slip accompanies the letter:

"Just to Make it Interesting," a $10 cash prize will be awarded to the one returning the largest percentage of increase; a $5 cash prize will be awarded to the one employing the most novel method of investment.

Only those who make full returns, not later than October 31st, will be considered eligible to compete for either of above prizes.

STOP DRINKING FOR SAKE OF THE NEGRO

Here is a new phase of the whiskey problem brought to light. The following editorial note appears in the Religious Record of this week:

"The presence of the negro, aside from other reasons, makes it necessary for us to be on guard against the sale of liquor. Under the fairest conditions this race, so clogged by appetite and passion, finds it difficult to get on well in the world. The negro is exposed on every hand to the strong temptations of the saloon he often proves unruly, both as a workman and as a citizen. Our duty to the negro demands that we shut up the saloon, with its varied incitements to vice and crime."
